Witte, who was elected, yesterday, the president of this bank, is a retired merchant of large means, and the Consul for Charleston of the North German Confederation. The different German societies have been invited to attend, and the stone will be laid with Masonic rites by Walhalla Lodge. The performance will be quite private, as the society design to make no public display until the completion of the building. The lot at the corner of Meeting and George streets is an admirable site for a public building; and if the present plans are followed, the structure will be one of the architectural ornaments of the city.

We have already given some outline of what the Augusta fremen intend to do, receive a hearty welcome and an honored place in the contest which might possibly result in their their musical skill on a grand bell medley and in favor. The companies from this city have the the silver cornet band. terial and the metal to ensure them a victory, and the Augusta boys will have to look to their

About seventy-five young men of this city are making preparations to emigrate to the Republic of Venezuela at an early day. Their intention is to settle on land already selected for them near Caracas, the capital of the republic, where the land is elevated and the climate healthy. ### AMUSEMENTS.

Academy of Music-LaRue's Minstrels. The performance of LaRue's Minstrels at the Academy last evening was remarkably good, and deserved a much better house. The ballads and artas in the first part of the evening were well rendered, especially Mr. Hamali's "Nobody's Child," which displayed his fine voice to advantage. The comic strength of the company was best exhibited in the various little dramatic interludes which were introduced in the course of the performance, sandwiched between the excellent clog-dancing of Mr. Rogers and the original "Shoo Fly," which, as usual, was rapturously re-celved. The sensation of the evening, however, was certainly the male soprano singing of "the great Ricardo," whose voice, if not a "true and true" soprano, is a marvellously good imitation. Hearing it first from behind the scenes, it was impossible to believe in its virility, and when the robust proportions of the dusky prima donna forbade ocular delusion on the subject of sex, the ear still found liself a most nuwilling convert. The voice itself is sweet and well managed, and enough of a curiosity to be really worth hearing. There is a new and attractive programme on the bills for this evening.

The Tremalne Brothers Holmes' Lyceum was well attended last night, despite the severity of the weather. The musical performanc's of the Tremaine Brothers and Preston were fully equal to the promises of the handbills, and the wonderful qualities of the Burdett organ were displayed to their best advantage. The performance was given in aid of Trinkty Church, with a view of interesting that congregation in the practice of the organ. A similar entertainment will be given to the public to-night, with new pieces, new songs, and an entire change ef programme.

Hibernian Hall-St. Joseph's Fair. The fair at the Hibernian Hall, in ald of St. Joseph's Church, will positively close on Thursday night, and the Catholics of the city have but three more opportunities of showing their appreciation of a most deserving charity.

In point of attractiveness, the fair shews no falling off. The tables are still loaded down with good things, and the different games are carried on with undagging spirit.

At the Academy of Music, No. 2, last night, the programme began with the farce of "Ching-Chi-Hum." and ended with "The Menagerie." we may remark, is the only place where one may "see the elephant" without serious moral or pecuniary damage. There will be an entire change of programme to-night. Yesterday afternoon the Catholic male and female orphans, numbering about a hundred, visited the dersigned. fair, and were shown in a practical way the good things of life. Last of all they had a turn at the "grab bag," and went home to dream of a land where Santa Claus and Catholic Fair bloom every day in the year.

The children of the City Orphanhouse were in vited by the managers to visit the fair on yesterday.

Among the many acceptable presents sent to the fair was a bound turker, garnished with fruits and jelly, from the famous Mills House kitchen. The thanks of the fair were tendered the proprie tor, Mr. Parker, and the turkey was raffled off without delay.

A very large number of valuable articles have yet to be raffled, and the chances are sold at so low a price that one may win a small sized for tane for ten cents or a quarter.

The following prizes were won last night: China cup and saucer, Mrs. Hafkenschiel; clgar stand, Edward Jaeger; fruit cake, Miss Rosa Moroso silver butter dish, Mrs. Brady; rich fruit cake, Victor St. Amand; large wax doll, Septima Follin; mantel ornament, M. E. O'Brien; child's dress, C. F. Streckfuss; cigar stand, Mrs. Freitas; pair of vases and dogs, Wm. Byrne; fruit cake, W. Mc-Kee; dell, C. O. Martin; bottles extract, S. Dursse; statue, Mrs. Murphy; velocipede, H. J. O'Neill; fruit cake, Miss Bessie O'Mara.

The Burger Family Swiss Bell-Ringers. The new hall in the Academy of Music was opened last night to a good audience, who braved the cutting blasts and keen wintry air to enjoy the sweeter airs that the Berger Family ring from and Stonewall, assembled at their respective their slivery bells. This troupe, though young in years, are talented performers on a variety of musical instruments, though the bells are their great forte. The programme offered last night was varied with solos on the violin and harp, and some exquisite singing by Miss Maud Stanley, the vocalist of the troupe. Miss Anna and Ettle Berand feel assured that the Charleston firemen will ger gave some vell-remembered Scotch ballads charmingly, and the entire troups brought out > facility with which the performers, particularly the ladies, can adapt themselves to the different instruments and form such a happy concord of sweet sounds. Aside from the music, the character of the evening was decidedly Sol Smith Russell, one of the best facial artists, mimics and impersonators that has ever appeared on the stage. He is an old acquaintance of the Charleston public, and has lest nothing of his mirth-prevoking propensities since his last visit. His delineations last night were capital, and it was only necessary to look at him to get up a good laugh. An entire ly new programme will be offered to-night.

Before the performance, the troupe, including the ladies, performed several familiar tunes in front of the Academy, on their silver instruments. The crowd was dense, and when Dixie and the Bonnie Blue Flag rang out on the stilly air, the cheers were spontaneous and enthusiastic. The troupe passed through several of the principal streets during the morning, and gave the public a good samplegof their musical ability. This office was honored with a screnade, which agreeably destroyed the monotony of journalistic duties.

A TORPID SYSTEM.—SOMETIMES, without any assignable cause, the physical strength and animal spirits give way, and trange torpor falls alike on the body and intellect. There is little or no pain perhaps, but the natural vigor and elasticity of the nervous and auscular system seems to have departed, and an indifference to the pleasures of life, and even of its grave responsibilities, takes the place of that earnest interest in both which characterizes every well balanced miad when in a healthy con-This state of partial collapse is often the pre-monitory symptoms of some serious malady. It indicates uzmistakably that the vital powers ar languishing and need a stimulant. In such cases the effect of a few doses of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is wonderfully beneficial The great tonic wakes up the system from its drowse. The secretions and the circulation receive a new impetus. The relaxed nerves recover heir elasticity under the operations of the speciac, like the slackened strength of a musical instrument in the process of tuning. Lethargy and debility are replaced by energy and vigor, the spirits rise, and life that almost seemed a burden while the senson of depression lasted, become once more enjoyable. That such a radical change should be produced by a remedy entirely devoid of the powerful alkaloids and minerals so extensively used in modern practice, may seem in credible to those who pin their faith on the nedicinal efficacy of active polsons, but if these skentics will take the trouble to inquire of those who have tested the corrective and alterative virtues of the BITTERS under the circumstances described, they will find the statement to be true.
